Mentor High School

SITTIN' ON TOP OF THE WORLD!

Foreword

It took four years, hours of his time, and all of his ambition, but there he is, "sitting on top of the world". This little fellow—by the way—is Pepper Cardinal, Mentor High School's "Typical Senior, 1952". We've chosen him to be your host throughout the 1952 edition of "Cardinal Notes".

Pep's a chipper little fellow, light-hearted, and loads of fun, but plenty conscientious. The underclassmen may say he's a little eccentric, and the teachers may agree, but we all love him anyway.

We remember Pep four years ago, shy, quiet, and unassuming, but a Freshman and a fine fellow. Despite his timidity, however, his confidence grew, and he flowered into a certainly sophisticated and almost cocky Sophomore. The Junior year brought with it burdens, scholastic as well as extra-curricular, and as a Senior, he faced the final test. But he climbed the ladder, one rung at a time, sometimes slipping, but never faltering, until he reached the top, from whence he leaves us.

No dirge is in order however, for Pep is going on to greater things, and those underclassmen who cherished and depended upon him need never forget him. With this thought in mind, we humbly submit "Cardinal Notes, 1952." Take Pep by the hand, and let him lead you through the year just past, and it will never leave you.

Here's Mentor High With . . .

Scholarship

She is the chosen orator . . . Who represents the class . . . Of those who had the diligence . . . And competence to pass . . . Her speech will tell the story true . . . Of what the school has meant . . . And why their youthful spirits are . . . Imbued with sentiment

Perhaps she will elaborate . . . On what the future holds and how the character of man is wonderful . . . Or merely up to par . . . She is the chosen scholar and . . . The graduation star And wish that they could be . . . The

And many students envy her , lucky ones who linger in Scholastic History

Leadership

The high school leader is the one Who really tries to be . . . Of service to the folks in his . . . Or her community . . . Who studies all the problems and . . . The ways and means at hand . . . To fill the cup of every need . . . And meet the least demand . . . Who gives unselfishly of time And energy and brain . . . For all the common welfare and . . . For everybody's gain . . . Not just today, tomorrow, or . . . Throughout the current year . . . But every dawn and every night . . . That he or she is here . . . To be of help to others and . . . Inspire them to be . . . The future high school leaders in . . . The same community.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

Sportsmanship

Be with me, God, and help me win
 The contest of today . . . But let me hear with humble heart . . . The praises people say . . . Let me be perfect in my form . . . And let each aim be true . . . And let me take a certain pride . . . In everything I do . . . But fill my soul with honesty . . . And listen to my prayer . . . That every time I play the game . . . I play it fair and square . . . Because the glory of this world . . . Can only last so long And every victory I gain . . . Belongs at last to You . . . Because You give me all the strength . . . To see each struggle through

Friendship

I like the steady person who . . . Is always there to serve . . . No matter how much happiness . . . Or sorrow I deserve . . . The one I can depend upon . . . To do the greatest task Or who will even undertake . . . The smallest thing I ask . . . For that is really friendship in . . . The finest sense on earth . . . And that is what will always prove . . . A person's final worth . . . It matters not how strong we are . . . Or powerful our name Because when friendship deals the hand . . . The cards are all the same

We live together in the world
 And we should try to be . . . An equal and unselfish part . . . Of all humanity. (J. Metcalf)

In Memoriam

RESIGNATION

As God may give so God may take . . . And life must come and go . . . Whatever weather may prevail . . . Or how the rivers flow . . . It is not ours to question Him . . . To murmur or complain . . . Or criticize Him for the tears . . . That mingle with the rain . . . Our sorrow and our tragedy . . . Are his divine command . . . And in the deepest darkness we . . .
Must try to understand . . . God rules the whole wide world and all . . . The universe He made . . . And if we love and honor Him . . . We need not be afraid . . . And if He wants us to be sad . . . And undergo a loss . . . Then let us do His holy will
And let us bear our cross

MARY BABBS

Dedication

For being a faithful leader, a fine teacher, a good example and just an all-around swell fellow, the class of "52" gratefully dedicates its proudest possession, Cardinal Notes '52, to Mr. Harmon Traxler.

Mr. Traxler, a World War II veteran, has been with us for three years, teaching American History and acting as Junior Class Advisor. His guidance has been invaluable and his frank, pleasant manner truly worthy of emulation. This dedication can be but a small offering to a great man.

Class of 1952 . . .

"It is not what you are but what you are about to become that is important."

Your approaching graduation from Mentor High School is not the end of your educational journey but is the climax of having completed four years of study and experience here. Commencement is the beginning of a life in a world of reality where the rewards and the penalties are a result of your own achievements and shortcomings.

With your graduation you start anew in your chosen field and your high school training and experience will be the foundation upon which you build your future. It is hoped that you have built well that foundation and that you will continue to put forth your greatest effort to achieve those accomplishments which will bring you the greatest rewards leading to a happy and successful future.

It is a pleasure to extend to you our best wishes as you turn to these new and challenging endeavors.

Board of Education

Left to right: W. M. Ware; D. R. Rice; Dr. R. M. Fagan, president; Dr. T. E. Byrne; Noel W. Col. Not pictured, Earl Ives. Mr. Wilson, clerk.

To the Seniors . . .

In a very real sense, although high school years are years of living in the present, they are essentially years of preparation for broader, more enjoyable, more "service-ful", more useful living in the years which follow.

That vacation is best which gives the vacationer both a pleasant and satisfying experience at the time, and equips him for better and more effective work in the future which follows his vacation; also, that leisure time and recreation activity is most desirable which performs the double function of providing enjoyment, relaxation, and pleasure for the individual immediately, and prepares him for more successful living in the days and weeks which will follow.

So, he who spends his student years most wisely will be enjoying the present with successful living today, and will be equipping himself for expanded, broader, more useful service to himself and to others in the years to come. He will truly build for himself "more stately mansions" for his soul, "as the swift seasons roll." Completing school years for him will mark the commencement of a life greater in every respect than his life has been up to that time. "Grow old along with me; the best is yet to be."

English and Foreign Languages

Besides mastering the King's English, brave Mentor scholars tried their hand at Latin and Spanish techniques. Also essential to the business major was the Commercial English course.

In charge of the English Department, were Mr. Moor, Mr. Hutton, Miss Kost, and Mr. Bell, who tried to convince doubting Toms the importance of composition, vocabulary, and the term paper.

Jason and Hercules provided trials and tribulations for Latin students, but with Miss Craig's help, and the velvet hand of fate, they finally managed to see the light. College-bound students discovered what fun Spanish could be (projects and parties) when the work was over.

Commercial, Math. and History Departments

Though as different as earth, sky and water, the Commercial, Math and History Departments have something in common, that being their importance in a well rounded high school.

The History Department in the hands of Mr. Traxler and Mr. Higham has the responsibility of impressing tomorrow's citizens with the brilliance, as well as the erring ways, of their predecessors.

Miss Giffin and Mr. Pitzer expound the mysteries of mathematics to the College Preps and the curious. The basis for our engineers, chemists and physicists.

Continuously growing in importance is our already renowned Commercial department. Through the able teaching of Mr. Phillips, Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Boni and the reputation of our F.B.L.A., it is known as one of the finest departments of its kind in the county.

Fine and Manual Arts

For the student lovers of beauty, Fine Arts offers many an opportunity in the creative field, for the talented and those eager to try their hand. Under the direction of Mr. Keller, Mr. Nordman, and Mr. Uhl, students are trained in art, orchestration, and choral arrangement.

The Manual Arts Department is responsible for useful and practical teaching which often becomes a profession.

Mrs. Buhler and Mrs. Kehres of the Home Economics Department trained "future homemakers" in the art of sewing and cooking. Mechanical drawing, welding, and woodworking were only a few of the trades taught by Mr. Oren Casey and Mr. Willard Barnes in the Industrial Arts Department.

Physical Ed., Science, and Library

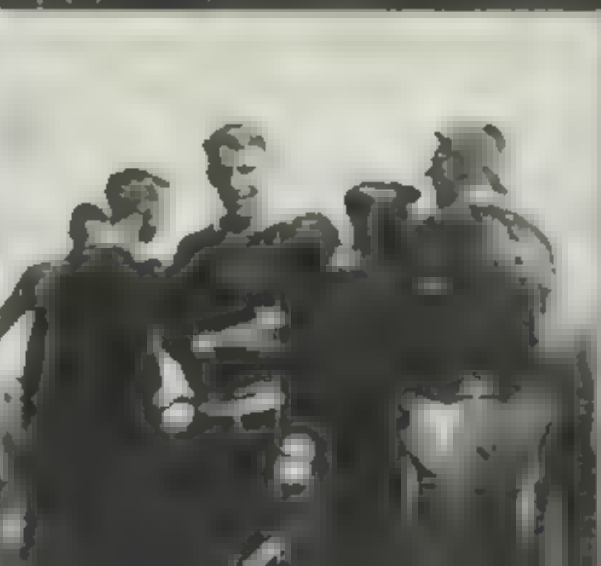

Physical education, the sciences, and the library—three courses that typify our way of life today.

The sciences, under Mr. Andrews, Mr. Howard Barnes, and Mr. Roberson, are part of the trend in modern high schools toward specialization. With more and more of our young men and women seeking employment in scientific fields, this department is very important.

Mr. Tressel and Miss Davis conduct our physical education program. Physical fitness is more important now, than ever before.

And then the library, to round out today's typical student. A place where he can work and read, for general background or his own pleasure.

THEY say it's a senior's world. Ask any senior, he'll tell you. But there are about 350 Mentorites that won't go along with that, and we all know that it would certainly be a dull day without our underclassmen

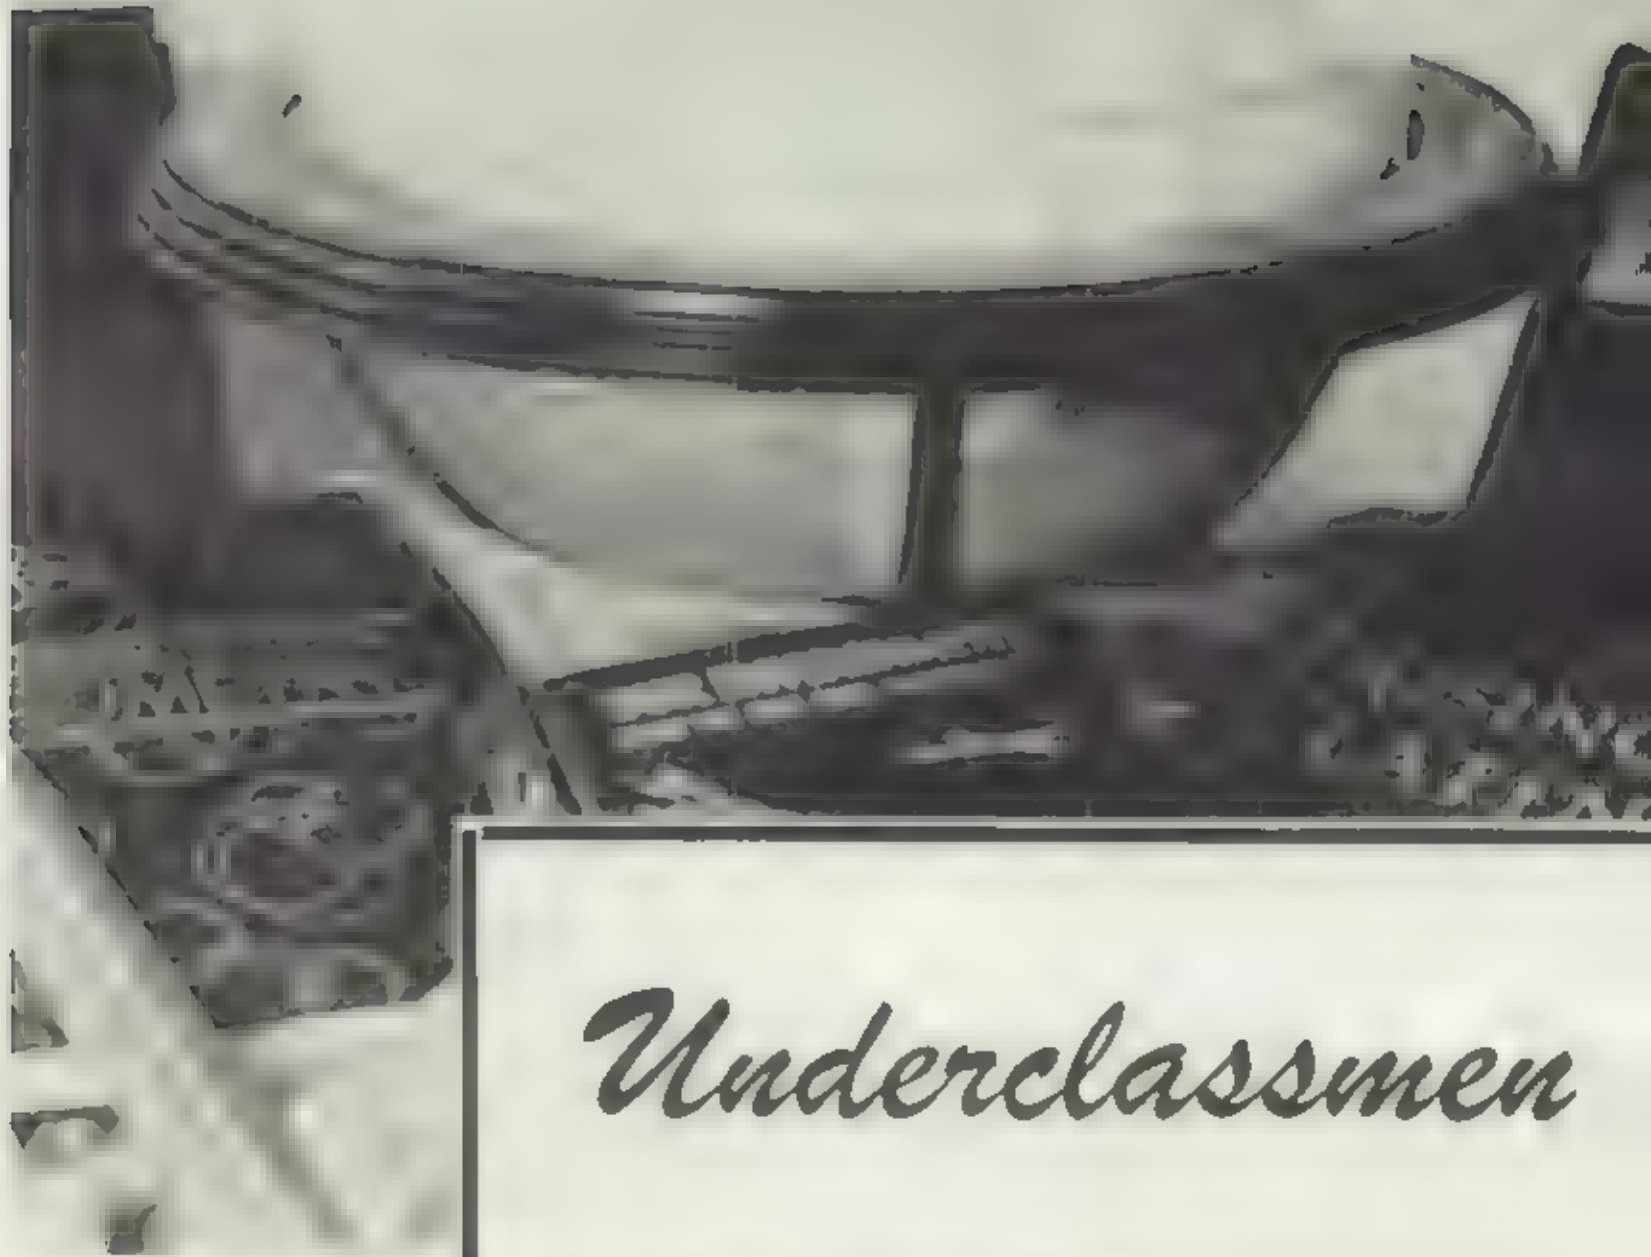

This year, we had some 135 freshmen, but actually they weren't fresh at all. Nearly all veterans of last year's campaign, in the eighth grade of course, they were well acquainted with our customs. They were quick to join our clubs and organizations, and needless to say, they have already become an intricate part of our school day

As for the sophomores, some one always pops up and says, "My, they are growing up, aren't they?" Well, they certainly were. We began to see sophomores on our varsity teams, in our choir, band, and all the groups we are so proud of. Already teachers and students were labeling "tomorrow's leaders." Their dance, the Moonbeam Ball, was a complete success. Impossible? For some perhaps, but not for these youngsters

And then there are the Juniors, but the name is only a formality, for along with the seniors, they formed the skeleton of Mentor High School. Many of them were already officers or at least leaders in their field. And most of them began to realize that there was more to high school than studies and football games. Responsibilities? Oh yes, there were rings, the prom, plenty of extra-curricular activities, and a lineup of really rough subjects

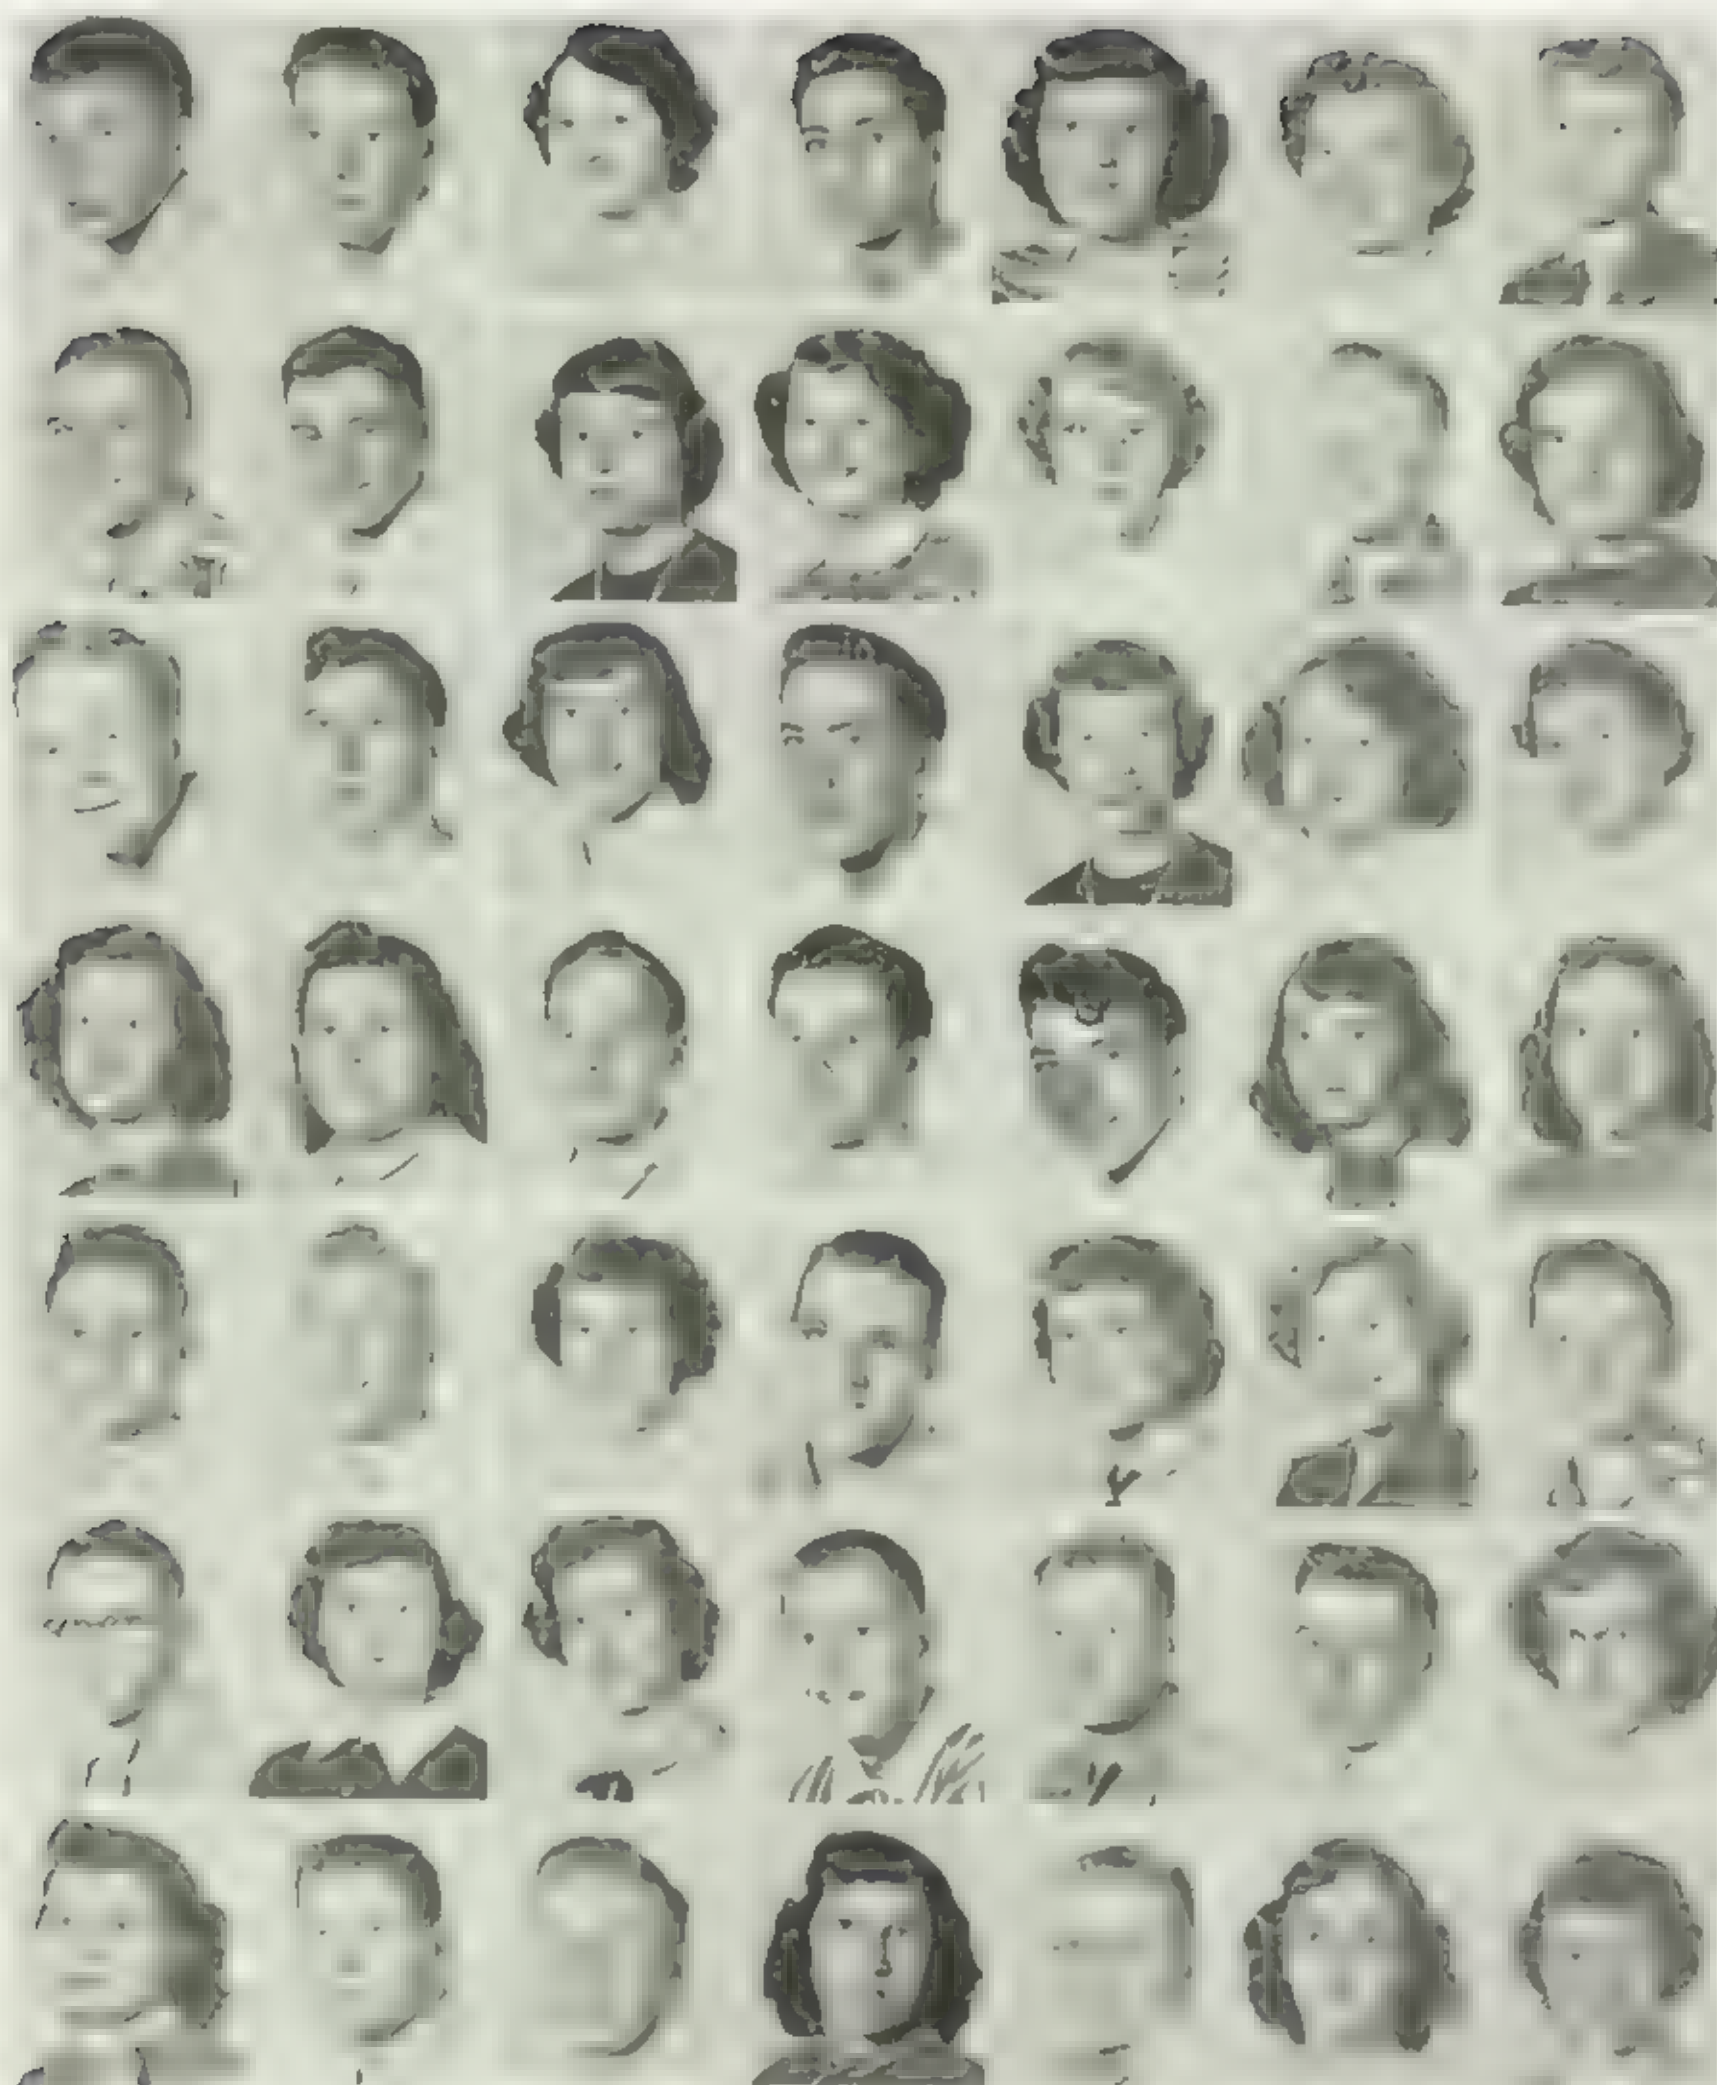

But that's all memories now, so in conclusion, we proudly present our underclassmen . . .

Athletics

GENERAL athletics around Mentor High were vastly improved with the acquisition of two new coaches, Lee Tressel and Arden Roberson, two years ago. Mr. Tressel, Mr. Roberson, and Mr. Harmon Traxler brought Mentor High School students and alumni to their feet more than once, with a sparkling varsity football team. Their record—by the way—was six wins and only two defeats, both losses resulting by just one touchdown.

Under the expert guidance of Mr. Tressel, the boys' intramural program became as well organized as the formerly superior girls' intramural tussles. In the male league, there was exceptionally keen competition and diversified opposition. Miss Davis' feminine basketball teams played several games in interscholastic competition this year. To date, "Davis' Dainty Dribblers" stand undefeated.

The '52 Cardinal basketball squad was guided by Coach Aaron Roberson. The team's record—we feel—did not show the true value of its all-around playing potential; for what the Cards lacked in height, they made up in speed and aggressiveness.

Little need be said about our track team, for as always, we nurtured one of the state's most formidable squads. This year the coaching reins were in the hands of Lee Tressel, who replaced one of Mentor's own alumni, Harley Howles.

Coach Harmon Traxler, another Mentor alumnus, lent his talents to the coaching of the baseball team. This is just the second year for this newly acquired varsity sport. Baseball gave some of the fellows not interested in track the opportunity to display their athletic ability on the diamond.

August 20 was a day very important to 40 Mentor grid hopefuls. It was the first day of regular fall training. Just three weeks until that all important opener.

Thirteen letter men were back to bolster the Cardinals squad, and Coach Lee Tressel's optimistic smile was a thing of beauty.

Local papers presented the whole story in bold-face.

Cards notch first win of season against Mayfield 52-12. Cards are downed 6-0 in first league encounter. Coach Lee Tressel suffers a heartbreaker, as a fumble and a bad kick set up a lone Skipper tally. Mentor rolls over undefeated Bedford eleven, 52-12. Cards impressive in 20-7 win over Riverside, second string finishes 59-7 rout at Chardon. Cards nipped by P'ville 7-0.

A formidable Mentor offense is succumbed by an almost unpenetrable Raider defense; Cards bottle Love in 20-7 conquest at Geneva; sleet and snow star in victory over Ashtabula Harbor; Cards down Willoughby rivals 20-7, "A most successful homecoming, and a brilliant finale."

Fresh Football

The Freshman Football team under the direction of Coaches Sanderson and Hickerson of the Center Street School, compiled a season's record of four victories as against one defeat. They were victorious over Riverside, Wiloughby Mayfield, and Painesville. Their only loss, came at the hands of Geneva in their first game.

A thoroughly successful season, for the co champs of their league.

Basketball

Though not a consistently winning team this year, our varsity basketball team was a complete success. Even though we didn't have the height to win them all, we had the spirit and aggressiveness that made us hard to beat.

Our J.V.'s on the other hand, led the Northeastern Conference, dropping just one game to an inspired Geneva quintet. They returned later, however, to defeat that same team by an impressive margin.

It's been another successful year for our renowned Varsity M. This club consists of a really elite group of gentlemen, as the major prerequisite is that you must have a varsity letter for your sweater.

The mastermind behind this lively club was Burly Bill Born, ably assisted by Dave Wagar. Did you know that Big Georgie Mara had taken up short hand? He must have, to become the club's handy secretary. And wouldn't you know that Fearless Fosdick (Stew) Wagner would be the Treasurer (seems like he's just crazy about money). Ruff and tuff, that was Ready Bill Kolesar, who did a stunning job as sergeant-at-arms.

This swell bunch of fellows are the "sweater boys" of Mentor who really work hard for those big red 'n' gray "M's" they wear.

Homecoming Queen and Court

As is the tradition, Mentor crowned her Homecoming Queen, Miss Audrey Fowles, at the annual Homecoming Game. This year, the Cards, inspired by the half time proceedings, disregarded a seven point deficit, and went on to beat their Willoughby rivals 20-7. Attending Audrey, were Sara Hawk, Sally Tibbits, Connie Wagar, and Carol Aurada. An unforgettable evening!!

Activities

"TAKING a step forward in 1952;" that phrase typifies the general trend of extra-curricular activities at Mentor this year.

The Student Council joined the National Association of Student Councils, and did a top-notch job as usual.

Fifteen new members, chosen for their Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service, were welcomed into the National Honor Society. Now a functioning organization, Ronnie Vidmar was elected president; Tom Hawk, vice president; Sara Hawk, treasurer; and Laura Kraus, secretary.

The Com-Mentor Staff showed real initiative, and renewed a precedent, by publishing an issue on the first day of school . . . another trophy marked the end of a successful magazine drive.

"The Doctor In Spite of Himself," and "The Marriage Proposal," were presented by the Thespians and the Little Theater Group, for a two night stand. The "Marriage Proposal" was also entered in the Ohio Speech League Contest.

The Y-Teens sent candy overseas, and had their annual banquet . . . F.B.L.A. members attended a state convention . . . the F.T.A. took a field trip to Western Reserve University.

Members of the G.A.A.'s list of activities for the year, includes their Stardust Formal in December.

Mentor High students' musical ability was displayed when both the choir and band took part in the competition at Cleveland Heights. Band, Choir and Boys Chorus took big trip to Columbus State finals.

The voice of the student body. That is what we can call our most cherished organization, the Student Council. The Council, is truly a cross section of the student body, representing every Freshman and Sophomore homeroom, as well as the Senior and Junior classes, where members are elected at large. Any student problem arising, can be taken to the Council for correction.

The president elect of this year's Student Council, was Bob Hancher. Supporting him were Dan Snyder, vice president, Sandra Walker, secretary; and Bill Horn, treasurer.

Bob also appointed several committees to carry out various other functions.

This year the Council took unprecedented action, by joining the National Association of Student Councils. A distinct step forward in Mentor High School student government.

Thespians

"There's no business like show business" —any of Mr. Bell's proteges could tell you that. This year Thespian and Dramatic Society members really had a taste of show business under the direction of Mr. Collins J. Bell, Mentor's new Dramatic coach.

'Ten Little Indians', starring Lys Young and "Chief" Lingafelter, was presented by the Senior Class for a two night stand in November.

Dramatic Society members attended the clinic at Kent State University on January 26, to see an arena production of Medea, and to bring home a galaxy of new ideas.

March 14 and 15 the Dramatic and Thespian Societies sponsored "The Doctor In Spite Of Himself" and "The Marriage Proposal."

Thespian members attended the State Convention at Youngstown in March, and "The Marriage Proposal" was entered in the Ohio State Speech League Contest at Columbus.

Thespian initiation brought joy to many who were installed in April.

The Junior production brought a successful season of Dramatics to a close in May.

Mentor High School, fast becoming noted for her ensembles, had two highly successful groups this year. A veteran Boys' Ensemble, again much in demand, put their hopes on State competition in the Spring. Perhaps even more impressive, however, was the rapid rise to success of the newly formed mixed ensemble.

Swing Band

Maestro Nordman and his Rhythm Rascals are not only well known in Mentor, but their reputation has spread far and wide. By special request they played for several social events during 1952; traveling to Kirtland the Swing Band played for their Semi-Formal. Mentor Center Street School engaged the band for their Tea Dance; Mentor students enjoyed their music at the Homecoming Dance.

The Swing Band is always on hand to liven assemblies, plays, banquets, and dances. Deacon Hostetler and Sleepy Patchin, with their mellow cornets, Hal Warton and Fifi Nordman on their golden saxophones, and Woody Hippler beating up a storm on the drums, are only a few samples of what makes up Mentor's wonderful eighteen piece Swing Band.

MR. NORDMAN

Mentor High School Band

Mentor's renowned band marched through another successful season, following its high stepping majorettes. During the football season these stalwart musicians disregarded bad weather conditions in order to practice. But their time was well spent, and the rewards were many.

The Homecoming Game was a red letter day for thirty-six senior band members who were honored. Their last performance with the marching band perhaps, but still a full schedule ahead.

The annual Spring Concert and the Contests ran hand in hand, to provide hours of hard work for all concerned. March 29, was the day set for competition at Cleveland Heights, the day everyone had been waiting for, and they were ready. They all knew that a good performance here would mean they were Columbus-bound, and determination was the key-note.

The Maple Festival, the Lake County Band Festival and local holiday celebrations supplemented a brilliant season for the Mentor High School Band.

Majorettes

DONNA BURKHARDT
Head Majorette

A marching band can only be as good as its majorettes. And it's common knowledge, that our band and the young ladies who led them down the field were nothing short of spectacular last fall.

The girls practiced one night a week, through most of the summer, in order to perform at the football games; and what performances they gave. Adorned in new uniforms, they were truly a tribute to the school they represented, and the band they were basically a part of.

The best may be yet to come, however, as only two of the girls, Donna Burkhardt, and Jackie Loomis graduated this year. We can all look forward to seeing the rest of the girls strutting their stuff next year.

Pep Club

The Pep Club under the able direction of Lys Young, this year, became one of our most active organizations. Completing her cabinet were Dick Maltby, vice-president; Nancy Ortmann, secretary; Spenser Sprague, treasurer, and Wally Hood, sergeant-at-arms.

The major objective of this club is to instill spirit, and secure the support of the student body. It is a well-known fact, that successful teams thrive on the support of this same student body.

The football season was exemplary of this fact. Spurred on by a series of car caravans, snake dances, and fiery pep assemblies, our boys came off the field with a 6-2 record.

One of the highlights of the school year, was the annual Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the Pep Club. Music furnished by our own Swing Band, and plenty of tradition by Queen Audrey Fowles and her attendants, made it a most memorable evening.

Congratulations to Lys and Dick for conducting the first successful organization of this kind in several years.

MENTOR ROOTERS AT KIRTLAND VICTORY!

There Are Dozens

There are dozens of students each year, who give hours of their time, and get little or no recognition. Their reward is a few service points, and the satisfaction one gets from helping others

The movie operators spend hours with Mr. Howard Barnes, learning how to operate the projectors. The clinic assistants under Miss Davis, and Mr. Hostetler give one period a day to give aid to everyone who may become ill or get hurt here at school. And then you've all noticed the fellows and girls who replace the library books on the shelves, and run the slips up to study hall

These are the folks that help to make our school days a little easier. Nice going kids!!

Assembly Committee

Sitting in class five days a week can certainly become tedious, and nothing can break this tedium like a good assembly. This year's assembly committee in charge of Mr. Bell proved to the student body that they were right in there pitching.

Our auditorium was filled with assemblies both entertaining and informative. We saw professional talent interspersed with student participation. In addition to our traditional assemblies, Orientation, Initiation, Awards, National Honor Society, Thanksgiving and Easter, we saw everything from professional tumblers to a concert pianist.

Congratulations to Mr. Bell and his Assembly Committee for making our school year a most enjoyable one.

Future Business Leaders of America

For years the Mentor Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America has been an influential member of the State F B L A. This year, a new organization led by Ronnie Lingafelter, president, Bob Creamer, vice president, and under the direction of Mr. Clarence Phillips, proceeded to better their long standing reputation.

Attending a state convention in November, Mentor led the way by performing a mock initiation for the benefit of the less experienced chapters. In return, the convention proceeded to elect Bob Misley, our nominee, State President of the F.B.L.A.

Y-Teens

The spirited Y-Teens celebrated their fourth birthday at Mentor with a new sponsor, Miss Nell Giffin. Dot Niemeyer patiently presided over the Y-Teens activities, trying to mix some work with their play.

Early in the fall a candelight installation was held. A few weeks later Miss Giffin, Dot Niemeyer, Barbara Kamke, and Peggy Filker attended the Y-Teen Convention at Columbus and brought home many new ideas.

As always there was the same old worry — "where was the next dollar coming from?" — a bake-sale was the solution.

The Christmas project was sending chocolate to Sucliti, Mentor's adopted town in Finland.

Among the many activities were picnics, a fashion show, the Senior Farewell, and an annual banquet and the installation of new officers.

When the fun was over, without even realizing it, they had devoted their time to personal improvement and mental, physical, and spiritual growth.

National Honor Society

No less important than our athletes or musicians are our scholars and our readers. Five juniors and ten seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society in February on the basis of their Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. Upon induction into this select group they became paragons for their fellow students.

About forty students from all grades were admitted to the Lake County Scholarship Club a week or so later. This entitled them to attend the annual banquet held this year at Eastlake Junior High School.

G. A. A. Formal

A romantic winter night with its snowflakes, Christmas trees and a moon, sprinkled with stardust and minor beams presented an ideal setting for the 'Stardust Formal.' The soft music of Lew Peck's orchestra gave that added touch to the G.A.A. sponsored dance.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT (Continued from page 86)

Bill Wakenshaw — I leave the blocking backs to Rudolph Strew.

Harold Wharton—I leave my musical ability to Pete Bos, also I leave a big broom behind, in the hope that someone else may clean up at Mentor High School.

Lee Wicol — I will leave Mr. Moor's corny jokes on Com-Mentor day to Tom Hawk.

Elsie Wilkie—I leave any of the arguments I never have with the teachers to Sylvia Centnor.

Mary Lou Woods—I leave my job as Feature Editor to some other inspired character.

Lysbeth Anne Young—I leave all the fun I had in choir to Marlene, Pattie, and Judy.

Ruth Alice Young — I leave all the senior worries to the Juniors.

John Warner — I leave my perfect attendance record to Ken Babbs

Dave Steimle—I leave Mentor High (that's enough).

Nancy Rippin—I leave my horn to whomever has enough energy to want to play it.

Nancy Behm — I will all the sport I had at Bev's P. J. party. Hay Girls!

The above statements made in solemn seriousness and under oath must not be taken facetiously by those with eccentricities or by those in debt. This Class Will is signed without the consent of our English instructor Mr. C. Osborn Hutton.
